Company Overview

Coble's Ornamental Iron, Inc. is a full-service ornamental iron shop specializing in steps, rails, fences, gates, steel decks, and other light structural steel products. The company was founded in 1962 by James and Sarah Coble, who began by working out of their home but soon needed more space. In 1965, the Cobles built a facility at their current location on Florence Boulevard which, thanks to several expansions, has served the business well.

Before his death in 2005, James Coble chose David Taschner, a long-time employee, as his successor to run the company. David is continuing the long-time tradition at Coble's of high quality ornamental iron work matched with personalized service for each customer's unique needs.

Sarah Coble invites commercial and residential customers to visit Coble's Ornamental Iron to see what they have to offer: "We've been in this business almost 50 years and have helped thousands of customers by crafting the custom ornamental iron product to suit their needs. We can do the same for you."
